Dulles Hints U.S. To Fight If China Intervenes In Indochina

Forest Fires Menace Mt. Wilson; 1,000 Men Battle Flames

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Mt. Wilson's valuable observatory and television equipment were still safe today as more than 1,000 men battled two forest fires in the San Gabriel Mountains.

High winds which fanned the flames yesterday had abated, but

President Moves To Head Off Railroad Strike

Emergency Board Set Up; Million Threaten Walkout

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—President Eisenhower today created an emergency board to head off a threatened strike of more than a million railroad workers represented by 15 non-operating unions.

The union members all are such employees as clerks and track walkers who don't work on the moving trains. The dispute affects 150 railroads operating throughout the country.

Creation of the three-man emergency board means that under terms of the Railway Labor Act the 15 unions are barred from striking for a 60-day period.

Eisenhower's vacation headquarters here said the members of the board will be named in a few days.

To Recommend Terms

During the 60-day no-strike period the board will hold hearings and recommend settlement terms. The last half of the two-month period is reserved for union-management negotiations on the basis of the board's findings.

Eisenhower's executive order setting up the board said the dispute threatens "substantially to interrupt interstate commerce to a degree such as to deprive the country of essential transportation service."

The 15 non-operating unions recently took a strike vote, after which it was announced that more than 90 per cent of the members approved a walkout. No strike date was set, however.

Seek Fringe Benefits

The unions have no pending wage increase demands but have asked for a variety of health-welfare and similar fringe demands.

The situation has been complicated by the fact that the railroads have filed suit in federal court in Chicago, claiming that under the railway labor law they are not compelled to bargain on many of the health-welfare and other union demands.

Some of those demands are:

Life insurance paid for by the railroads in a coverage sum equal to the worker's annual pay, with a minimum of $3,500; hospital, sickness and disability benefits for employees and their families; widely enlarged free pass provisions for workers and their families; premium payments for Sunday and holiday work, and increase vacation benefits.

George Leighty, spokesman for the unions, has said the pending suit filed by the carriers has angered the workers to a point where many of them want a strike.

The suits ask for a declaratory judgment saying the carriers don't have to bargain on the union demands for health-welfare and free pass demands.

No One Injured In Two Traffic Mishaps

Two auto mishaps in the city yesterday resulted in property damage only, police reported.

Autos driven by Howard E. Fowler, 27, of 438 Franklin St. and Carroll F. Greene, 30, of RD 3, Salem, collided in the 800 block of N. Lincoln Ave. at 4:36 p.m.

Police said an unknown vehicle struck the flare pots and barricade in front of City Hospital on E. State St. at 7:42 p.m. and tossed the barricade into an auto driven by Earl B. Selway, 25, of Washingtonville.

The other vehicle did not stop after the mishap, police stated. Slight damage was sustained by the Selway car, they said.

Secretary Says New Weapons Sent To Korea

U.S. May Attack China Directly If Fighting Renews In Korea, Hint

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles hinted today that U.S. sea and air forces will retaliate directly if Communist China openly intervenes in Indochina or renews the fighting in Korea.

In a news conference discussion of President Eisenhower's decision to pull two divisions out of Korea, Dulles emphasized that this government might meet renewed aggression in Korea or open intervention in Indochina by striking at the aggressor forces in places outside of Korea and Indochina.

Lower edges of this fire have from time to time threatened outskirts of Monrovia and Sierra Madre, foothill communities east of Pasadena.

Fire equipment from many towns as far north as Bakersfield and south to San Diego — has been moved in to aid federal, state and county foresters.

The fire below Mt. Baldy is north of Claremont, and 700 to 1,000 residents in that vicinity were evacuated.

The Pacific Telephone & Telegraph Co. reported its coaxial cable to the top of Mt. Wilson, where TV transmitters are located was still intact although in danger. Network officials have pointed out that loss of Mt. Wilson facilities would knock out Los Angeles area reception but would not affect network operations, which are piped East by another coaxial cable.

Furthermore, Dulles said, he does not think that the Red drive presents any present threat to Thailand, bordering Laos on the route and joined the fire crews. Valuable scientific instruments, household effects from six dwellings and five automobiles were moved inside the double-walled steel dome that houses the 10-inch telescope.

Some Congress members—Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) for one—have expressed concern that Thailand might be invaded.

"Any invasion of Thailand would be considered highly critical,"

Knowland told reporters. "We could not stand by. If the United Nations did not take action, it could not survive."

"Thailand must be protected.

Lausche Says He Won't Seek U.S. Presidency

CLEVELAND (AP)—Gov. Frank J. Lausche indicated last night he has no intention of seeking the Democratic presidential nomination in 1956.

The governor's disclosure followed a cryptic statement he made when called upon for informal remarks at a dinner.

Saying he had been asked to speak before a New York audience, Lausche asserted:

"I replied that I would not speak out of the State of Ohio for three years. I don't know whether that was significant to the man who extended the invitation, but it was significant to me."

A reporter later asked the governor to explain the remark.

"If I had any presidential ambitions I would be speaking outside the state, wouldn't I?" Lausche asked. "If I don't speak, it means I have no ambitions. Besides three years will take us to December 1956."

That date would be after the 1956 presidential election.

Lausche already has announced he will seek a fifth two-year term as governor in 1954.

His remarks were delivered at a dinner honoring Dr. Everett R. Clinchy of New York, president of the National Conference of Christians and Jews.

GOP Lauds Ike Bid For Democrats' Support*Republican Senate Leaders Post Jan. 5 Back-To-Work Notice

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican leaders today issued a back-to-work notice for Jan. 5—the publicans for a preview of his State of the Union Message. He will deliver it to a joint session of Congress two days later.

Sen. Knowland of California, the Senate GOP leader, said the Senate Republican Policy Committee would meet Jan. 5.

That is the same day on which Eisenhower yesterday invited them.

Some Democrats had been grumbling because Eisenhower invited only the GOP leaders and committee chairmen to his legislative conferences earlier this month.

While several of them spoke kindly of the forthcoming talks to include Democrats, they said it was little more than a gesture since the President's message to Congress would be virtually completed by then.

"This is better than no consultation at all," Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn.) said. "I hope that the program has not been so permanently set that there will be no opportunity for acceptance of Democratic suggestions."

Sen. Monroney (D-Oklahoma) described the Eisenhower invitation as a "belated recognition" that some Democratic votes will be needed to put over portions of the President's program in the closely divided Congress.

Rep. Rayburn of Texas, the House Democratic leader, said "I'll be glad to attend." He declined further comment.

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Senate Democratic leader, and Sen. Russell (D-Ga.) were expected in the capital today or tomorrow. Both are among those invited by Eisenhower.

Knowland told reporters he would confer with Johnson as soon as the Texan arrives.

He voiced hope the Senate will get down to lawmaking as soon as possible. No business is ever transacted until after the President's message, but Knowland said he wants to avoid the "usual January drag" after that.

Officers Named By Romanian Society Leul

Nick Budai was re-elected president of the Romanian Society Leul at recent meeting. Nick Buta will serve as 1954 vice president; Steve Tarzan, secretary and Ludovica Taflan, financial secretary-treasurer.

On the board of controllers for 1954 will be Constantine Canja. Jim Cosgarea and Elena Oana will head the sick benefit controller committee.

Trustees for the new year will be John Stoita, Steve Cosgarea and Mr. Canja. Members of the committee of the society will be Octavian Botu, Myron Oana, Maria Oana, Nick Maior and Dan Komasa.

Members of the Junior Union, in cooperation with Mr. Budai, president and general chairman, planned the gala Christmas Day party which was enjoyed by 200 members and their families in Romanian Hall. Dancing provided entertainment and Nick Buta played Santa Claus, distributing gifts to the youngsters.

Mr. Budai is arranging the New Year's Eve party scheduled to start Thursday at 9:30 p.m. The festivities will be for all Leul members and social members of the society.

Plan To File Charges For Drunken Killing

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Authorities plan to file charges today against a 32-year-old man they say admits fatally shooting a drinking companion Christmas morning.

Clarence Skaggs of Springfield, a small, ruddy-faced laborer who has served several prison terms for burglary, yesterday confessed the slaying of Lonny R. Thompson, 18, of Springfield, after a barroom argument, police said.

He told a reporter he argued with Thompson over "matching terms for drinks," went out into the alley with him and shot Thompson after Thompson knocked him down.

ADMITS ROBBING DAIRY

CINCINNATI (AP)—James Wright, 34, turned himself over to police yesterday and said he helped rob the dairy where he works of $500. He said two others helped in the robbery.

Columbiana*Christmas Seal Sale Near Quota*Council To Wind Up Year's Business

COLUMBIANA — Sales of Christmas seals in Columbiana village and Fairfield township had reached yesterday a total of $2,406.20, leaving a remainder of $143.80 to reach the quota of $2,550. Chairman Mark Klingensmith expects the quota to be reached as remittances are still being received. The goal of $2,340 a year ago was reached and exceeded by $192 after Christmas.

Village council will meet at 7:30 p.m. today to wind up the business of the year, and the next meeting will be next Tuesday evening, Jan. 5, when the two-year term of village elective officials will begin. Mayor Walter Thomas will start his second term, with four re-elected members of the present council: Walter Miller, president of council; Herbert Souder and Arthur Myers, Republicans, and Charles Fisher, Democrat.

New members will be Clifford Orr, Republican, and Oliver Harrold, Democrat. Myers served previous terms both as mayor and councilman, with several years intervening before his election to council two years ago. Fisher had served on previous councils before his election four years ago.

Harrold was a member of the council that concluded its term two years ago. Orr had been serving on the cemetery board before his election to council. He will be the only new member.

COMMUNITY SERVICES in observance of the week of prayer have been arranged by the Columbiana Ministerial Association to be held in Grace Evangelical and Reformed church at 7:30 p.m. daily beginning next Sunday and continuing through Thursday.

There will also be a school of prayer and prayer service at 1:30 p.m. daily. Rev. W. W. Ralph of Dennison, accredited evangelist of Northeast Ohio Methodist conference, will be speaker every evening. He has served pastorates in Cleveland, Canton, Akron and Warren.

The Columbiana Clippers left today for Carey, Wyandot county, where they will play Carey High at 7:30 p.m. daily. Columbiana alumni play North Lima alumni there at 8 p.m. tomorrow.

TOWN PLANNING will be discussed at the next meeting of the Chamber of Commerce board of directors, Monday evening, Jan. 18, to which members of village council and the board of affairs will be invited. Representatives of Porter & Kelly, East Liverpool architects, who specialize in town planning, will be present to give information on the subject and answer questions.

Because of the New Year holiday this week, Columbiana stores will be open until 5:30 p.m. tomorrow instead of observing the usual Wednesday afternoon closing and will be closed all day Friday. Banks and the loan company will close as usual tomorrow afternoon and again all day Friday.

The Columbiana Youngs will play the Hubbard Boosters in Columbiana High School gym at 8 p.m. tomorrow.

Lamneck Seeks Term In Ohio Supreme Court

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Judge John H. Lamneck of the Ohio Supreme Court today announced his candidacy for the unexpired term of the late Judge Edward S. Mathias that expires Dec. 31, 1956.

Judge Mathias died last Nov. 2 in Columbus. Gov. Frank J. Lausche named Lamneck, state welfare director, on Nov. 15 to serve in his place until election of a successor Nov. 2 for the unexpired term.

Lamneck, former Tuscarawas County Probate, Juvenile and Common Pleas Court judge, said he has circulated petitions for the May 4 Democratic primary nomination.

Three have announced for the Republican nomination. They are:

Willard D. Campbell, former Guernsey County prosecutor, judge, state senator and director of the State Bureau of Code Revision; Francis Douglass of Cleveland, GOP Supreme Court nominee in 1950 and 1952 and Common Pleas Judge Leland R. Rutherford of Morrow County, a former Cleveland lawyer.

Woman Faces 21-Year Term For Kidnapping

MUSKOGEE, Okla. (AP)—Mrs. Tommie Dene Doughty, 17-year-old unrepentant kidnapper of a 5-month-old Indiana child, today faced a 21-year-term in federal prison for the crime.

Mrs. Doughty, former carnival strip teaser, pleaded guilty yesterday to abducting the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lee Stammer while baby-sitting with the boy in Evansville, Ind.

Her attorneys, appealing for a suspended sentence, said Mrs. Doughty had a mother complex because she had lost a baby of her own. Psychiatrists ruled her sane.

After her arrest at her Bokchito, Okla., home, the young kidnapper said she would take the child again if given the chance. The boy was recovered unharmed.

Police Break Teen-Age Larceny Ring, Arrest 9

ATLANTA (AP)—Nine youths in the 14-16 age bracket have been detained in the county juvenile home by police, who said authorities had smashed a teen-age larceny gang.

Detectives J. W. Smith and J. E. Sikes said yesterday the gang's 15-year-old leader told them:

"Stealing a car is just like smoking a cigarette—you light up and puff on it for a minute or two, then you throw it down and reach for another one. You drive one car a block or two and then you are ready for another one."

Police said the youths told them they stole as many as four cars in a single night to go joy riding.

Ten stolen automobiles, four motor scooters and an assortment of hub caps and other items were recovered.

5th Wife Of Actor Gets Real Friendly Divorce

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The fifth wife of silent film star Kenneth Harlan was free today of marital bonds. Actress-singer Helene Stanton, 25, obtained a divorce yesterday from the 38-year-old Harlan on grounds of cruelty.

But it was a "real friendly" divorce, the actress told newsmen outside the courtroom.

"It is just too bad we didn't get along," she said. "He's really very nice. Matter of fact, I think I'll take him out to lunch."

The couple was married in 1949 and separated last April.

3 Convicted For Refusing To Talk In Ohio Probes

Judge Rules Group Has No Refuge In Fifth Amendment

CINCINNATI (AP)—Many Ohioans invoke the Fifth Amendment of the U.S. Constitution in refusing to testify before state commissions?

No, ruled Judge George E. Kearns yesterday in finding three persons guilty of contempt of the Ohio Un-American Activities Commission.

The fifth amendment states, "No person . . . shall be compelled in any criminal case to be a witness against himself . . ." This has been construed by witnesses to mean they have the right to decline to answer questions of federal and state legislative commissions which might tend to incriminate them.

The first persons to be convicted of contempt of the state un-American activities group are Talmadge Raley, 42, of Sidney, Ohio; Joseph Stern, 43, and Emmet C. Brown, 28, both of Cincinnati.

Cites State Law

Judge Kearns said state law gave them immunity from prosecution arising out of their testimony before the commission. Therefore, he said, they could not take refuge in the federal constitution.

U.S. Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell has asked Congress to pass a law which would give the same immunity for federal witnesses in similar circumstances. Such a law would prevent witnesses from invoking the much-repeated Fifth, he said.

Judge Kearns' decision will be appealed, the defense attorney said. And it may take a ruling of the Ohio Supreme Court to spell out the protection, if any, witnesses in state proceedings will have from the amendment.

Actions Contemptuous

But Kearns based his decision on more than the immunity clause. He said the actions of the men were contemptuous because "the questions which are the basis of the counts in the indictments are so lacking in the elements suggesting incrimination . . ."

The men had refused to answer questions regarding their residences, jobs and acquaintances.

One man, Reuel Stanfield, 52, of Cincinnati, was acquitted. While he declined to answer some things, Judge Kearns noted he answered others.

Stern defended his right to refuse to answer the commission, declaring:

"We were perfectly within our rights in refusing to answer. Our trial was evidence of the hysteria on the part of the legislators having political ambition . . . The danger of the overthrow of this government is the hysteria of the people conducting these investigations."

The trio was sentenced to 10 days in jail and fined $500. They are out on bond pending their appeals.

Defense Department Gives Manpower Report

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department, in its first monthly manpower report since the Korean War started, said yesterday there were 3,455,954 men and women in the armed services at the end of November.

This was the breakdown: Army 1,502,551, Navy 778,057, Marine Corps 251,770, Air Force 923,575.

The total was 229,000 under the Korean peak reached in April 1952. It was 51,000 under the figure for last Jan. 1.

Nye Is Candidate For Lt. Governor

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—George D. Nye of Waverly announced today he would be a candidate in the Democratic primary next May for lieutenant governor, a post he'd held for three terms.

Nye, former Pike County judge, won the post in 1944, 1948 and 1950. He received the nomination again last year but failed to win election.

"In view of the strong trend now in existence," Nye said in his announcement, "it appears likely that the next General Assembly will be Democratic. The presiding officer of the Ohio Senate should be the same party."

Ohio's lieutenant governor presides over sessions of the Senate. Both houses of the last legislature were overwhelmingly Republican.

The fifth amendment states, "No person . . . shall be compelled in any criminal case to be a witness against himself . . ." This has been construed by witnesses to mean they have the right to decline to answer questions of federal and state legislative commissions which might tend to incriminate them.

The first persons to be convicted of contempt of the state un-American activities group are Talmadge Raley, 42, of Sidney, Ohio; Joseph Stern, 43, and Emmet C. Brown, 28, both of Cincinnati.

Ike's Reply

here have been some signs lately that the administration might come under attack in the new session.

Sen. Douglas (D-Ill.) for example said last week that American business already is in the midst of a "real recession."

In a debate with Douglas on that issue last Sunday, Hause rejected the idea that business has slumped seriously. Hause added that "we can still look pretty optimistically on the business situation this year and the outlook for next year."

Nickel Delays Firemen Getting Off To Blaze

AVON, N. Y. (AP)—Yesterday six volunteers rushed to the fire hall in response to an alarm. Trouble was, no one had a nickel to telephone the chief to find out where the fire was.

Seems Chief George W. Studley placed the alarm from his house after getting fire calls.

As it turned out, the chief arrived at the station six minutes after the firemen and led them to a burning truck.

Studley says hereafter a nickel will be next to the phone, where everyone can see it.

Probers Urge Firing Of Lima Police Chief

LIMA, Ohio (AP)—An investigating committee report called today for dismissal of Police Chief Kermit L. Westbay and disciplinary action against four policemen.

The three-member committee composed of city councilmen said vice and gambling operations had made the police department inefficient, endangering the welfare of Lima citizens.

The report said Westbay, a member of the force 20 years and chief the past 10 years, used the "color" of his office to avoid payment of private debts incurred in the operation of a filling station he owned.

Other charges in the report said he violated civil service and department regulations in assigning officers and by failing to keep records of their efficiency.

An employee of Westbay's filling station, the report added, had on at least a dozen occasions received from two men, described as known vice and narcotics operators, envelopes he took to the chief.

Westbay received sums from individuals and firms, ostensibly for police welfare and equipment funds, the report said, but, it added, the money was not used for such purposes.

The investigating committee was created two years ago and received a $2,000 appropriation for its work. It heard about 100 witnesses under oath and questioned about 200 others.

Committee members said it would report later on the city engineer's office.

B&O Blames Business Decline For Layoff

BALTIMORE (AP)—A decline in business and a dim outlook for 1954 was blamed today by the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad for layoffs of 6,000 employees in its 13-state system.

The furloughs, for an indefinite time, affect about 11 per cent of the B&O's working force and become effective at the end of the week.

A spokesman said they are the largest for this time of year since 1949, and are definitely not seasonal.

He said the layoffs will be spread throughout the 13 states, from New York to Washington in the East and Chicago to St. Louis in the Midwest.

Stays At Hotel With Girl Is Sent To Jail

LISBON—The 29-year-old Wellsville man who registered at an East Liverpool hotel with a 16-year-old East Liverpool girl he called his "wife," drew a 60-day Mahoning County jail sentence and was fined $100 Monday afternoon.

The Army announced the return of Pvt. Homer H. Cox, 33, of Tulsa, Okla., and Leland H. Towers, 28, a merchant seaman, of San Francisco.

Cox has been missing from his military police unit in Berlin since Sept. 22, 1949. He apparently was arrested by the Russians in the Soviet sector of the city, but they never had acknowledged holding him.

Towers disappeared in Finland in 1952 while on shore leave from his ship.

C. Of C. Social Security Plan Is Attacked

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States Chamber of Commerce today found its proposal to qualify five million more older citizens for social security pensions attacked in an economists' debate as a "baby Townsend Plan."

Ford Motor Co. official said in remarks prepared for the economists' meeting that "prospects for the automobile industry are good."

Santa In Japan

The Tokyo correspondent for The Wall Street Journal has done an outstanding job of reporting Japan's first Christmas rush this year.

Business was never better. Japanese Santa Clauses were to be found in the big department stores, with Donner, Blitzen et al. Christmas trees were everywhere.

"Kurisumasu paatis" — Christmas parties— are numerous and jolly. "Jingle Bells" blared from every loudspeaker. The Christmas idea tied so neatly with Japan's own year-end holiday spirit that Hon. Santa is destined to become a fixed feature of December merchandising in Japan.

The Japanese are unconcerned over the fact, this thing they call Kurisamasu is connected with a religion which only about one per cent of them know anything about.

Holiday Hazard

As far as automobile traffic is concerned, the holiday hazard rises in direct ratio to the quality of the weather. The better the weather the higher the speed. The higher the speed, the greater the number of fatalities.

The Christmas weekend brought good weather throughout the United States. It was quickly evident to the experts that this would step up the accident rate for the obvious reason that more autoists would be driving more miles at higher speeds than if the weather had been bad.

The experts knew what they were talking about. A new record was reached.

It is no comfort to the survivors of those who die or to those who are maimed, but traffic experts can foretell how many of us are going to be killed and hurt almost from day to day.

The traffic hazard is as easy to define as the hazard from coronary disease; it has been taken in charge by the actuarians.

As long as they can depend on certain fixed factors, they can foretell the total of traffic deaths. The principal factor is excessive speed, which might be defined as any speed greater than the driver's ability to use it safely.

No More Heartbreak Ridges

There has been nothing grimmer in the annals of infantry warfare than the experiences of foot soldiers in the Korean war. They are the background for President Eisenhower's announcement that two army divisions are being brought home from Korea but that future aggression will be opposed with "even greater effect than heretofore."

This sounds like a clear warning that the United States has no intention of remaining committed to a large-scale holding operation in Korea in terms of land troops. The key to its ability to defend its non-aggression policy in Asia is the same in a strategic sense as its key to a no-aggression policy in Europe—an island bastion from which its strategic bomber fleet could back up a threat of immediate retaliation.

In Asia, the bastion is Japan, for whose security the United States fought the Korean war. In Europe, the bastion is England.

The Air Force equipment and personnel in those two places represent America's highest hopes of convincing would-be aggressors that the attack wouldn't be worth the retaliation.

Sugar-Bowl Financing

A new phrase, "the cash budget," keeps popping up in stores about federal finance. It refers to a conviction gaining popularity in Washington that the budget problem would be clearer if the figures which show what it is were designed to reveal more and conceal less.

This amounts to saying — to those of us un schooled in high finance — that the federal government should adopt the sugar-bowl method of handling money. This was the method whereby our mothers put income into the sugar bowl and took outgo out of the sugar bowl. What was left over, if anything, was surplus. What was not forthcoming was a shortage of means and meant less meat and more potatoes on the table until ends had been made to meet.

If the federal government adopted the same method, it would count as income everything it collected and as outgo everything it sent. Instead, it takes in vast sums from social security taxes, insurance premiums and retirement payments which are kept separately as trust funds.

These sums eventually must be paid out. But in a cash - budget system they'd be counted as income until they finally became outgo. Under such a system, incidentally, the federal budget could be balanced in 1954. This accounts for the frequency with which the idea is being mentioned by would-be budget balancers.

It would be just like a perfect nuisance to get a big kick out of being perfect.

Nothing is impossible, says a writer. One of those lucky gents who meets nothing but nice people.

Withdrawal From Korea May Invite Aggression

Announcement of the proposed withdrawal of two divisions of American troops — about 35,000 men — from Korea is a step fraught with possible consequences of the gravest character.

It could conceivably be the genesis of World War III some day, if Soviet Russia makes a miscalculation based on this decision by America.

For it is unprecedented in military history to find any nation which has been fighting a war and has agreed to an armistice suddenly announcing that it will withdraw a substantial number of its troops from the fighting zone.

If there had been a peace treaty signed or some pledge given against new aggression by the enemy, the withdrawal might be rationalized as having been required by a peace agreement in return for concessions of some kind.

But not only has there been no agreement on time or place for a build-up of the Korean Army, and if this is soon made plain to the Korean people, the move will be regarded with enthusiasm there. Something has to be done to keep up the Korean morale, especially since it is now conceded by the American envoy, Arthur Dean, that the Communist Chinese government is integrating North Korea into the Manchurian economy. It is believed, moreover, that the Chinese Communist government is planning to make North Korea a part of Red China

THIS FORM of annexation could happen if a peace treaty to unify Korea is never signed.

Possibly Mr. Eisenhower didn't know of the Communist intentions for a Christmas-Day drive across Indochina when he arranged for the withdrawal of the two American divisions from Korea, and sent Adm. Arthur W. Bradford and Assistant Secretary of State Walter Robertson to Seoul to explain the move to President Rhee.

Now that the Communists have completely disregarded the warning issued by Secretary Dulles last summer against further aggression in Indochina, it does look as if the Communists aren't taking any statements by the American government very seriously. This is the road to further aggression.

To cut Indochina in half at the 16 Parallel in the face of all the strong words issued by the American government and in the light of the United Nations' resolutions against aggression does make it appear as if Moscow and Peking think the Americans and their allies are committed to further aggression.

Certainly the impact of the American decision on the morale of the Korean people and their army will be disturbing.

For America to start reducing her armed forces even before a peace conference begins is bound to be disconcerting to the Korean populace which will be apprehensive about another attack from the north at any moment.

IT IS TRUE that President Eisenhower has said that any such aggression would be met with retaliatory blows by American naval and air power, but the Communists are well aware that American sea power and air power didn't prevent the crossing of the Yalu River into North Korea by a million Chinese Communists, nor drive them out of North Korea — they are still there. Besides, Great Britain is on record as opposing any future operations beyond the Yalu against the enemy bases.

Without permission to conduct a strategic air campaign against such bases, air power is not decisive, as three years of warfare in Korea have tragically revealed.

Is there any other possible explanation for President Eisenhower's move? The only one that makes sense is that the United States is anticipating shortly an appeal from the South Korean government.

Medical Problem Solved

An industrial textile has solved one of the most difficult problems in the artificial heart-lung machine, experimenters report. These miraculous machines this year, for the first time, permitted an operation on a bloodless but still beating human heart.

U.S. government medical researchers have reported that with a heart-lung machine of proper design "It is not difficult to supply oxygen to the blood, rid it of excess carbon dioxide, and pump a sufficient volume to maintain life, but it is very difficult to obtain a sufficient supply of blood from the body for the machine."

A new specially developed seamless nylon filter tube taps the blood with greater efficiency. Not only does this nylon blood filter tube provide an ample supply of blood for the machine — it also uncomplicates the operating area by allowing blood to be drawn from the limbs after a small local incision.

Medical investigators working at the Veterans Administration Hospital in Nashville, Tenn., with the cooperation of Vanderbilt University, disclosed that before the new product was used it was necessary to open the big veins near the heart in order to get enough blood, thus crowding the operation area. Suction in smaller veins previously collapsed the veins. Other filters sucked the thin vein walls which clogged the flow.

To overcome these blood-supply difficulties, the VA researchers

"Oh—Don't Forget Your Luggage"

In Search Of Policy

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

The Republican party's major difficulty is that it has been so long out of power that intellectual cohesion is difficult to attain.

President Eisenhower's three-day conference was designed to discover a basic philosophy of action which could be applied to legislation in the next session of Congress complicated by President Eisenhower's minority in the Senate and barely a majority in the House.

This condition is only to a degree complicated by President Eisenhower's avoidance of political questions during most of his life, his inexperience with civilian government and his dependence during the first year of his administration upon assistants and advisers who are not particularly popular with the rank and file of his party and some of whom have no status in the party.

THE THREE-DAY conference therefore had the additional value of bringing him closer to the leaders of his party and the chairmen of committees of Congress upon whom rests the constitutional responsibility of carrying any legislative program to an effective conclusion.

From all accounts, these sessions generated more goodwill and unity of purpose than has been known for a year. Sen. McCarthy, who has been jousting with the White House, came away in good spirits which Republicans hope may survive beyond the atmosphere of the moment.

Opposition to particular personalities in the White House entourage, namely, Sherman Adams, C. D. Jackson, Gen. Walter Bedell Smith, and William Rogers of the Department of Justice, will continue without, however, confounding relations with the President.

SOME OF THESE attitudes are

Congress to pass legislation which will make the cover-up more difficult.

If the Brownell wire-tapping bill is passed, the FBI will be more efficient in the preparation of cases for indictment. Statutes of limitations on crimes involving espionage and subversion will probably be made to run longer or even be abolished.

THE ENTIRE problem of espionage will be reviewed and necessary legislation proposed to make it more difficult.

As it stands today, a case of espionage, fully proved or admitted before a congressional committee, is difficult to establish in a court of law under existing rules.

It would be preferable to try these cases in a court than to depend entirely for disclosure upon congressional committees.

The Eisenhower administration will continue to have to obtain some Democratic support which will undoubtedly be forthcoming for a constructive program.

Liaison between the White House and the Congress is in the hands of Gen. Wilton B. Persons and Jack Martin, who for many years was associated with Sen. Taft.

Gen. Persons and Jack Martin have had long experience with the Congress and have had to manage with Democrats as with Republicans.

Therefore, if there is a mood among members of Congress to support President Eisenhower, these liaison officers can be depended upon to exert telling efforts.

As of the present, this three-day conference has produced only gains.

Winterscape

By TRUMAN TWILL

On a recent winter Sunday when the pale sun was playing hide and seek with the scudding clouds, it was plain once more that cold weather is the basic blessing of the North Temperate Zone and of all rural inhabitants.

Men need winter to balance summer. Where there is no balance there is no progress. It would be as tough to live easily on tree-ripened bananas as to live hard on frozen fish.

But in the Temperate Zone a man may have his bananas and his fish too. He has his summer and his winter, his grassy fields and his snow-choked ravines.

He has his day in the sun of summer and his day in the chill of winter. Each in its season is both appropriate and satisfactory. Yet of the two, the chill of winter is to be preferred in many respects.

There is no work in winter that can't wait.

We had gone out, the dogs and I, to cut the branches off a tree that had gone over in a summer storm. Once the branches are removed and piled up for burning at some later date, the trunk can be sawed into lengths and split for firewood.

There are days in summer, especially June, when everything is just the way it should be. But they are infrequent. For perfect days, winter is to be preferred.

It is not uncommon for newcomers to RFD to discover the sweet uses of winter and be pleasantly surprised thereby. They go to the country in pursuit of summer but wind up as admirers of winter.

Mittens were laid aside and the sun had outdistanced the clouds often enough to make a new wind-breaker with a quilted lining seem uncomfortably warm. The ax bit deeply and the saw snarled through the cuts.

Only a few Eskimos know how to build snow houses.

Week After Christmas

Now Christmas is a memory With Gifts in disarray;

Good Santa left me everything— (But stuff with which to pay);

My letter went unanswered, though I simply asked him if He'd see that all my debtors got Some sleeping powders stiff.

To the top of the porch, to the top of the wall!

And into the ashcan with Christmas bills all!

II

The tree we had was extra big— It made our hearts so glad;

It had an extra string of lights— (A credit-card I had).

The mantle held the stockings, yes,

And what a row of socks!

(The payments will be simple if I bust into Fort Knox.)

III

Our gifts they broke all records and Mom's sables were a hit;

("I'll have six months, they promise me,

Before the "PLEASE REMIT");

our Susie got much jewelry,

The boys got games galore . . .

(They'll ouw 'em outright possibly Within a year or more.)

IV

As dry leaves before the wild hurricane fly

The bills will be whirling 'till Fourth of July.)

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The State Highway Patrol said today 450 of its patrolmen will be assigned to patrol Ohio's highways New Year's Eve. Thursday, until the following morning.

Col. George Mingle, patrol superintendent, at the same time warned motorists that the responsibility for a tragedy-free New Year holiday rests with them.

He asked motorists to continue "a safe and sane" holiday driving.

The 450 patrolmen will be on duty from early evening of New Year's Eve, Thursday, until the following morning.

"We are accepting our responsibility by placing all available men on the roads. We will be there to help when necessary. However, the main responsibility is up to the individual motorist."

S. Korea Seeks Right To Try American GIs

SEOUL (AP) — Foreign Minister Pyun Yung Tai today said South Korea would seek a jurisdictional agreement with the U. N. command which would permit his government to arrest and try American servicemen.

Pyun said at a news conference his government would have a draft of the proposed agreement ready soon. He said it would be patterned after that between the United States and Japan.

Japan now has the right to arrest and try American military personnel for crimes committed outside of U.S. bases.

No American serviceman ever has been tried in a South Korean court.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

I refer again to the mysterious Mr. X who had such great influence on ex-President Truman that he could come and go in and out of the White House with just a perfumery telephone call announcing his arrival.

I most respectfully recommend to Mr. Truman that he check Mr. X's record. If the former chief executive does so, he will discover shortly after the Russian revolution in an effort to put Soviet Russia on its feet.

Flynn has just left the U.S. for Italy — with pledges of $500,000 from United Artists so he can finance shooting "William Tell." It would be a fine gesture if United Artists, which from now on will know of Flynn's policies, tells him to work with pro-U. S. forces abroad.

JIMMY PETRILLO'S feud with the smaller entertainment unions has reached the silly stage. One of the unions Petrillo hates worse than germs is the American Guild of Variety Artists. Last week, whenver national AGVA president, comedian Jackie Bright, walked on the stage of a Pittsburgh night club called Carousel, Petrillo's orchestra walked out. Jackie had to work his routine without music.

Teamsters Union president Dave Beck is on the road to cleaning up 15 of that union's trouble spots — by suspending local charters across the country.

One of Mr. X's fellow stockholders in this Russia-American Industrial Corp., was none other than Nicolai Lenin—who was then directing the bloodiest terror, the wildest strike-breaking and the deadliest extermination of peasants the world had seen. To get a full picture of Lenin's terrorism at that time, read Eugene Lyon's new book.

I've never written that any book is a "must." Now I say that Eugene Lyon's "Our Secret Allies" is must-reading for it reveals the kind of Russia which Mr. Truman's close friend was trying to save in the early Twenties.

WHILE NATIONAL labor chiefs like John Lewis, George Meany and Walter Reuther make the headlines, an independent labor federation which is virtually unknown to the country is quietly but swiftly growing in size.

This is the unpublicized National Independent Union Council which is a central headquarters in Washington for some 2,000 unions outside the AFL and CIO.

Its new national chairman, picked at its convention in St. Louis last September, is Clarence Bennett, of New Haven, Conn. Bennett heads an independent telephone union which he says is the largest in that state.

There are rumors that John Lewis would like to see them join him in a new third labor federation.

Hollywood's film unions have been investigating "runaway" movie and TV producers who rush to Europe where labor costs are 40 to 50 per cent lower than ours.

Some AFL film people are particularly irritated by swash-buckling movie hero Errol Flynn, who has been shooting a picture in Italy for over a year — with labor supplied by the Communist General Confederation of Italian Labor (CGIL).

When the roving actor first came to Rome to make "Don Juan's Maestro," the anti-Communist Film Workers Federation met with J. Barrett Mahon, Flynn's business manager, to ask that the picture he shot with anti-Red labor. It was not.

Later, when Flynn started "The Adventures of William Tell," the anti-Communist Italian movie union protested to the Hollywood AFL Film Council.

AGAIN FLYNN used labor recruited from the sovietizing film union. Now, I'm certain Flynn is neither a Communist nor a Communist sympathizer. But, what sense is there in the U. S. Embassy people in Rome spending millions fighting Communism, when a celebrity like him-man Flynn, who breaks into the Italian press re-

Dorothy Louise Barnhouse Is Bride Of John Fritzman

Among the weddings on the Saturday after Christmas was that of Miss Dorothy Louise Barnhouse, daughter of John L. Barnhouse of 495 Arch St. and John Fritzman of 601 Arch St., son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Michael Fritzman.

The couple pledged their vows in the double ring service performed by Rev. John Bauman, pastor of the Emmanuel Lutheran Church, in the church sanctuary at 2:30 o'clock.

Beautiful Christmas decorations added to the effectiveness of the simple service.

A bride wore a dress of white pleated orlon with contrasting navy blue accessories and a corsage of red rosebuds.

Mrs. Alvin C. Lipp of East Palestine was her sister's matron of honor. With her gown of dusty rose crepe, she used black accessories and a yellow rosebud corsage.

Michael Fritzman was best man.

The Barnhouse home was artistically decorated in the Christmas holiday theme and red roses added beauty to the setting for the reception which followed the wedding. A three-tiered cake was served friends and relatives of the couple who called to congratulate them.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Fritzman were graduated from Salem High School. Mr. Fritzman, who served in the European theater in World War II, is an employee of the Mullins Manufacturing Corp. His wife was employed in the office of the Deming Co.

The couple did not reveal their honeymoon destination. When they left following the reception, the bride wore a navy blue crepe dress with navy accessories and her bridal corsage.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Miss Eileen Coy To Wed Donald Hahn

Kentucky Replaces Indiana As Top College Team In AP Poll

Dukes Climb To 2nd Spot

Hoosiers Dropped To Third Place

NEW YORK (AP) — Kentucky's Wildcats, the nation's No. 1 basketball team three times between 1949 and '52, are back on top today largely because of victory in their own tournament and Indiana's defeat by Oregon State.

Kentucky, out of competition last season, moved into the No. 1 spot in the Associated Press' weekly poll of the nation's sports writers and sportscasters with Indiana's Hoosiers dropping all the way to third.

Duquesne's towering Dukes, who soundly trounced New York University in the first round of the Holiday Festival at New York's Madison Square Garden last Saturday took over No. 2. Oregon State, 67-51 conqueror of Indiana after losing an overtime game to the Hoosiers on the previous night, moved up from 12th to fourth for the biggest gain among the ranked quintets.

Kentucky, polling 46 first team votes, received a total of 776 points. Duquesne, with only five first place votes but a heavy choice for second, had a total of 626. Indiana trailed with 497, only 16 more than Oregon State with 481.

The Oklahoma Aggies retained their hold on fifth spot with the first 10 completed by Minnesota, Western Kentucky, Illinois, North Carolina State and Fordham.

Notre Dame, Dayton and Wisconsin dropped out of the top 20 entirely. Their places were taken by Seattle, Brigham Young and Wyoming.

The ballots were counted yesterday before Kentucky defeated Minnesota, 74-59, for its seventh win without a loss. The defeat was Minnesota's first in eight outings.

Lisbon Blue Devils Top Leetonia 71-50

Extending their winning streak the Lisbon Blue Devils routed the Leetonia Bears 71-50 on the Lisbon court Monday night.

Leading 15-11 at the end of the first period, the Blue Devils increased the margin to 33-17 at halftime as they outscored the losers 18-6 in the second period.

A pair of 19-point frames in the final half enabled the undefeated Blue Devils to coast home with the victory.

Big Jim Rutecki paced the scoring with 25 points. Second honors went to Dean Nicholson who tallied 23. Dave Deffenbaugh led the losers with 12 markers while Harry Kornbau netted 11.

Coach Jack Mills' aggregation now has won three in a row without a setback while Tom McCutcheon's Bears have a 2-4 slate. Lisbon plays again tomorrow night at Coshocton in a non-league game, but Leetonia won't see action again until after the first of the year.

Kentucky Trounces Minnesota, 74-59

CHICAGO (AP)—Minnesota bowed out of the ranks of the nation's undefeated basketball teams last night, succumbing, 74-59, to Kentucky, the country's top-rated squad.

The defeat, first in eight games for the Gophers, left Michigan State as the only Big Ten team with a perfect record to date. The Spartans have won four straight.

In other games involving Big Ten teams last night, Michigan beat Loyola of Chicago, 89-58, Wisconsin beat Denver, 67-48, Northwestern topped Butler, 70-57, and Yale took on Bradley, 66-57.

Michigan had little trouble with Loyola, jumping to an early 14-3 lead and holding a substantial edge throughout the game. The Wolverines hit on 49 per cent of their floor shots.

Northwestern limited Butler to three field goals in the first half in defeating a team that in its last two appearances against Big Ten squads had knocked off two that were undefeated, Michigan and Purdue.

With Joe Sexson scoring 26 of his 30-point total in the second half, Purdue overcame a 36-34 Rutgers halftime lead and won going away. It was Rutgers' first defeat of the season.

Russians Force Unwilling 'Pioneers' To Move Into Backward Areas To Push 'Russianization'

Editors Note—The Soviet Union series, he tells of Moscow's efforts is popularly known as Russia, but it actually encompasses 15 republics beside the Russian republic where Moscow is situated. William L. Ryan visited eight republics in a 6,000 mile tour of the Soviet Union. In this article, second of a hit series, he tells of Moscow's efforts to Russify—and get the most out of—the outlying areas.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

Tired-looking two-engine planes wheeze, their wheels setting up a splattering storm of mud.

Ancient passenger trains creak into dingy railway stations, encrusted with the ice of long and weary miles through barren steppes.

Rickety buses bounce crazily over narrow, frozen dirt roads, slamming their huddled, furred passengers against the sides and lurching them from their seats.

In the capitals of central Asia and the Caucasus, the planes, trains and buses discharge unwilling pioneers, the new empire builders of Great Russia.

By the thousands they pour into provincial capitals—Communist party political experts, agronomists, veterinarians, engineers and mechanics of all grades. They are well dressed by Soviet standards, but they often look unhappy and often they are accompanied by less happy fur-coated wives.

For a long time these privileged people have had things too good. Now they must pay the first installment of their debt to the Soviet state for educating them. The palmy days are over for many.

These "volunteers," fresh from dized celebrations of farewell and congratulations, have had to be pushed into the remote reaches of the farflung Soviet empire to do their part in the government's desperate attempts to bring order to the chaos of its consumer economy.

Generations of Russians before them brought Russian culture and Russian domination to almond-eyed Kazakhs, the gentle, swarthy Tatars, the nomad Turkmen and all the scores of nationalities cemented into the Soviet Union...

The new crop of pioneers has been assigned the task of exploiting the natural riches of these rich lands so that the Soviet Union's home front will achieve the elasticity it needs to cushion it against the possible shock of a new world conflict. The party pictures this as a glorious task, but there is little joy in it for the new arrivals.

Debarred into the thick mud of a provincial airport, a specialist takes a shivering look at the great vastness beyond the republic capital, and decides to stay in town, hoping to be part of a sort of headquarters corps. But that won't do.

"It is impossible," said Tadjikstan Communist, official party paper, "to tolerate the fact that many specialists, instead of going to work in machine-tractor stations and collective farms, continue to live in cities and simply pay flying visits to their work."

This reflects Moscow's irritation in the schools. All business is conducted in Russian. Street sign and newspapers are in two and sometimes three languages, but in central Asia the alphabets are Russian. Capital cities have more Russians than natives.

National plays, national ballet and national opera are performed in these capitals but after they have been screened carefully to guard against traces of nationalism. Just as many, and probably more, Russian ballets, plays and operas are performed. Streets are named more often for Russian heroes than for the local ones. Histories are rewritten to portray as benevolent the influence of czarist Russia.

The Communists have built cities in central Asia, but in their studied attempt to make provincial capitals little carbon copies of Moscow, they have introduced much of the drabness and monotony of the Soviet capital. Along with new buildings, they brought the drudgery of existence under a Communist regime. Along with education came the constant nagging of the party to get more from the people.

Along with hospitals and institutions the Communists brought the monotonously depressing sight of women, young and old in capital after capital, dragged like their sisters in Moscow into the heaviest of manual labor—digging ditches, carrying bricks, hacking ice from the roads or endlessly and listlessly sweeping streets with brooms fashioned from bundles of twigs.

The Communists brought the drabness of cramped homes, row on row of bad housing. Along with new industry came the shabbiness of goods in the stores, the drabness of endless, aggravating bureaucracy putting new obstacles in the way of an existence already difficult enough.
